REPORT OF CHIEF ENGINEER AND FOREST FIRE WARDEN

MR. AND MRS. TAXPAYER:

You provide, equip and maintain the Rollinsford Fire Department. You should, and do, expect efficient service to be rendered for protection of your lives and property in consideration for loyal cooperation and financial support. Is your protection there? If so—you are paying tribute to your fire department.

Aside from certain specialties, Fire Fighting particularly, the business of the Rollinsford Fire Department is fire preparedness. If your thought of this is that it is complicated, ours is to make it as efficient as possible. If your fire protection is not efficient by preparedness then your lives and your homes are not protected. Our duty is to make your protection subject to proof, and to do this we must have united cooperation from all the people. We know that you want your fire department efficiently equipped and managed and in your desire to maintain protection by preparedness you will earnestly endeavor to provide financially and otherwise for this most important municipal department.

FIRE HAS NO FAVORITES

Probably very few home owners, plant executives, or other property owners ever expect to have a fire on their premises. They will readily admit that fires do occur, but by some peculiar logic they consider their particular properties immune from this unwelcome visitor.

This complacent attitude is responsible for thousands of disastrous fires. As a matter of fact records show that some of the worst fires in the history of the country have occurred in places where previously there had never been a fire. If property owners would not consider their property immune from fire, just because it had never experienced one, what a reduction would be effected in our annual loss from fires.

Lets consider fire protection and fire prevention. Although closely allied to each other, there is a vast difference between them. Summed up in a few words: Fire prevention is the precautionary measures taken to reduce the possibility of fire, but it does not extinguish fire when once it does occur.

Fire possibilities exist on every hand and there are so many ways in which fire can be caused, that no matter how rigidly fire prevention is practiced, fires will occur. So while fire prevention is the first line of defense against fire, it does not obviate the necessity for the second line of defense fire protection.

The modern fire department is the acme of efficiency and could not be dispersed with no matter how rigidly fire protection and fire prevention were practiced, for the danger of conflagrations is always present. However, most fires have a small start and if fire protection devices of the right type are on hand fires of this type can be extinguished amost instantly.

Fire insurance, like fire departments, is indispensable and no straight thinking person will underestimate its advantages. However, fire insurance does not insure against loss of a home which may be the realization of years of work, and planning, or the loss of heirlooms, keepsakes and antiques whose value cannot be computed in dollars and cents. In industry, fire insurance may not compensate against interruption of production, schedules, loss of good will, loss of customers who are forced to buy elsewhere, while the plant is being rebuilt, and all of the other intangible but yet costly losses that accure from fire.

Maintain efficient modern fire equipment in your fire department; practice fire prevention and finally, don't consider fire as something which can never visit your home or factory. The fact that you have never had a fire offers no assurance whatever that you are a favorite.

Once again, we are privileged to report very favorably regarding losses by fire during 1931. Of course this success is due, in a great measure, to the cooperation received from our Citizens. I can assure you folks that it is a great pleasure to me, and very commendable to our townspeople, for the noticeable advancement achieved during the past year relative to the elimination of fire hazards. A great effort has been successfully waged and many serious fires averted by the practice of cleaning chimney flues and stove funnels obtaining fire permits before kindling fires, burning waste and refuse in incinerators, proper dumping of hot ashes and many other noticeable safe guards. Lets not relax one bit during the ensuing year but keep up our good work and if possible make the future years even better than the past in the elimination of fire hazards. One ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Again out town officials, industrial concerns and citizens are to be complimented for the neat appearance of their plants, homes and streets.

We have been called upon during the past year to assist neighboring towns and let us assure you that it has been a pleasure to the boys of the Rollinsford Fire Department to give valuable assistance whenever asked so to do. The spirit of cooperation between the fire departments of our neighboring towns is built up to a point of mutual understanding and joint cooperation.

It is with regret that I am not able to compliment the town for the installation of the four hydrants voted and appropriated for at the last town election. These hydrants installed and piped would greatly increase fire protection over a large area now more or less protected to a minor degree, and would surely lessen the insurance rate now levied in this particular section of our town upon home owners who would benefit by water within their reach.

Clearing of brush and refuse along the state highways the past year is a very commendable matter, not only in the transformation of appearances for the better, but in respect to the elimination of grass and brush fires which could be, and have been, kindled by a lighted match or cigarette butt carelessly thrown from a passing automobile.

Hayfields abutting the roadsides have been cut and cared for better during 1931 than for previous years, but there is still chance for improvement. Why not try and abolish a great fire risk by cutting the fields in season? Its for your benefit, also your neighbors.

The 500 feet of new double jacket hose added to our equipment the past year is an asset of the highest value and we are ready to demonstrate should the occasion demand, that it was money well spent.

We are carrying 1400 feet of good serviceable hose on our truck these days and we have 1600 feet in reserve for emergency. I feel that we are quite well fortified with hose for the next year. The truck and its equipment is in good serviceable condition. During the past year we have added a set of hose protectors and a seven foot ladder, for chimney fire fighting, to our equipment.

I suggest and recommend that all sizeable brooks along the roadsides in our rural districts be suitably dammed, forming a supply of water, sufficient for draught by our truck pumper to fight fires within hose reach. The cost of financing such a project would be small in consideration of results which might be achieved for the protection of outlying property.

There are many brooks suitably located for this kind of fire protection if a little effort were made to prepare them for a standing water supply.

Continue the good work of cleaning chimneys and stove funnels thereby lessening chimney fires and their resultant greater losses.

Fire permits may be obtained from your Forest Fire Warden, so abide by the law and be sure you have a permit before you kindle a fire. Its your protection.

I suggest that the salary of Chief Engineer be raised to comply with that of other town officers holding responsible positions. The effort required by the position, if the service and efficiency of your fire department is properly maintained, should be, at least partially, financially acknowledged.

I recommend that our children be taught in schools or otherwise, the Prone Method System of Resuscitation. The Prone Method System has proven in many instances, when properly applied a life saver. In my opinion all sizeable children should be taught this method of saving life. It is simple if properly administered. It can be taught to children as a sport and then developed for educational purposes. This is seriously recommended and worthy of thought for a life saving device.

While it has been our custom to practice economy in the past and fully realizing the burdens to taxation levied upon our towns people, from year to year, to meet necessary improvements for the town's welfare, it is my opinion that the fire department budget for 1932 should remain the same as for the previous year, or $850.00.

The very favorable results attained for the year just past, relative to losses from fire have enabled us to close the year with approximately $100.00 to the good. We all want to be economical and especially so at this time of world depression but I believe there is such a thing as being too economical and especially so if your fire protection is mistreated. Fire Department efficiency must be based on preparedness to meet every arising obstacle detrimental to human life and inflammable property.

Your Fire Department improperly financed ceases to be efficient and must therefore slump in its efforts of protection by preparedness. We won't waste your money. Neither will we allow your fire protection by unpreparedness, menace your lives and property if we have the necessary financial backing and support accorded us for 1932 which has been your pleasure to extend in the past. One or more conflagrations could very easily wipe out our town. Don't place your town in a position to be so treated. MAINTAIN YOUR BUDGET.

Years ago conditions called for extra class rooms for school work. At that time the room directly over our fire station was known, and occupied as the firemen's room. This room was voluntarily surrendered by the firemen to the School District for its use as a class room with the understanding that it would revert back to the fire department when it was discontinued as a class room for school work. For various reasons it is not now necessary to continue with this room for school purposes, and as was agreed, the firemen have again taken possession of same. We would like very much to have this room repaired and painted and in addition would greatly appreciate a separate entrance and exit from that of the main building. Therefore we are asking to have a door cut through to this room on the south side of the building where there is now a window and a pair of stairs built to lead from this door-way to the ground. The renovation would not be a costly job and would be greatly appreciated by your firemen. This suggested improvement would add greatly to the interest and efficiency of the individual member of the department. May we not have your cooperation in this matter.

In memory of a true and tried friend, "of all firemen and fire departments with whom he came in contact during his 25 years of faithful service as Chief of the South Berwick, Maine fire department" I feel called upon to express the feelings of the boys of the Rollinsford Fire Department, relative to the death of our late brother fireman and Chief Mr. Fred F. Adams. Well known and respected by all firemen and citizens of his own and surrounding towns, and having answered as Chief of his department, many calls for assistance in Rollinsford, at various fires. We, as firemen, mourn Chief Adams' death and bow to the will of the Great Chief who called him from our midst. Yet we glory in the realization of the fact that he died with his boots on while doing his duty as a fireman and as Chief of the South Berwick, Maine, Fire Department.

Your cooperation for better service by eliminating fire hazards by practicing fire prevention, by adequately equipping your fire department is hereby acknowledged and has achieved fine results for the year 1931. It is our hope that the good work will continue for the future years, so that we may be in a position to render protection equal to your expectations. We ask you to continue that confidence and loyal support for the betterment of your fire protection and for which we extend our sincere thanks.

ROLLINSFORD FIRE DEPARTMENT,

RAYMOND C. CHASE, Chief Engineer

Forest Fire Warden.

FOREST FIRE WARDEN'S REPORT

Public education is a major factor in forest fire prevention. Rangers and Foresters are public educators in the work of fire prevention. Even the fire towers sprinkled throughout the state have become schools in fire prevention where thousands of visitors are told annually about the forest fire menace. There is a remarkable similarity as to the causes of fires. Smokers cause about forty per-cent of fires; hunters and fishermen eight per-cent; campers five per-cent; railroads sixteen per-cent; burning brush and grass and rubbish nineteen per-cent. In other words, the chief trouble maker is old man Carelessness. Dry weather and strong wind are great supporters of this sort of fatal negligence.

By observing a few simple rules, a great deal may be accomplished in fire prevention. In the first place there is usually a desire to build too large a fire. The Indians and the Pioneers knew fire technique and built small fires. A small fire is more serviceable. A large fire affords opportunity for the wind to carry more sparks over greater distances than a small fire. The fire should be extinguished thoroughly with water and the ashes should be covered with earth before leaving the site. Lighted tobacco should never be thrown away and left in the woods. Put your "smoke" out, place it on a bare rock or in the mud or muck and grind it into fine pieces with the heel or toe of your boot. Twist between your fingers the burned end of the match or break the match before throwing it away, or still better, put it in your pocket.

Always do whatever you can to report a fire or extinguish one that you may find burning in the forest the same as you would do in case of fire elsewhere.

When you are in the woods be a sportsman, not only in the way in which you hunt and fish, but also in the way in which you care for the very ground that makes these sports possible. The trained woodsman realizes his responsibility when he is in the woods and the more experienced he may be the more alive he is to his responsibility.

These men rarely have a feeling of guilt when fire attacks some portion of the woods in which they have been, for they know that they have taken every precaution.

The same cannot be said for the men who yearly go into the forests without even fundamental knowledge of the laws of the woods or without a sense of their responsibility in guarding the forests from irreparable damage. Many times these very men are careful and responsible citizens, until they get into the woods, then they cast these very traits to the winds.

Everybody loses when the forests burn. Five thousand uses which man-kind makes of the products that come from the forests are affected and the tendency is that the materials for all of those uses have been, to a certain degree, increased in cost to the consumer.

But the play ground where the fire setter sought recreation has been destroyed for him and for his children. Wild life has met a fiery doom. The cooling shade, the inviting trails, the flowers and birds have disappeared. With them have gone the tourist, the hunter, the camper, for none of these enjoys an outing among the blackened stumps and barren hillsides in a country which is overpopulated by insects and fungi.

Damage caused by forest fires in the United States in 1931 is estimated at $66,000,000.00, not including damage to young growth, wild life, water shed values and other intangible values, which could not be measured in dollars and cents. These fires swept over a total of more than 52,000,000 acres, an area greater than the state of Ohio and Indiana combined. Careless smokers were responsible for more fires and greater losses than any other cause.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

TO THE SCHOOL BOARD AND CITIZENS OF ROLLINSFORD:

I have the honor to make my fourth annual report.

Only one change in the teaching force has been made since the last report. Miss Gouin was released from her contract when she was offered a position in Dover. Miss Mary Daley, who had proved her worth under me in Madbury Center School, was generously released by the Madbury School Board at her request and is continuing the same high quality of work in the Pear Yard School. Our music teacher has fortunately been retained, (the first time that we have been able to keep the same teacher for a second year) the good results of such a procedure are now making themselves apparent. A rhythmic orchestra is being started at the Sullivan School, the money for the instruments coming from the rentals of the piano at the town hall.

Our school nurse is very active, as her report shows. We have done our best to bring about physical adjustments of eye sight, etc., wherever such are found. Mrs. Nutter solicited funds for free milk and 20 pupils in the Franklin School are now receiving milk and a graham cracker each day. This is commendable at any time but especially so just now when so many families find it difficult to maintain the proper standard of living.

At the graduation exercises last June Raymond Boucher received the Good Citizenship medal awarded by the N. H. Sons of the American Revolution and Louis Economos the five dollars in gold given by the American Legion for high scholarship.

It was not possible for the School Board to make all the repairs recommended last year. The Pear Yard floor could not be laid and no inside painting could be done at the Franklin School since so much money was needed to make the building satisfactory on the outside. The Sullivan School painting is not yet quite complete but the building is now about a model rural school.

RECOMMENDATIONS

I hesitate to make any recommendations which will call for more outlay yet I feel that in justice to the children for whose good I am working that I should lay the needs of the schools before the voters and let them decide what they can do. "The children of today become the citizens of tomorrow. They will never forgive us were we to stand for giving them less than the young people of the last decade have had. All other retrenchments should be made before using the pruning knife on the school budget. The child's education must be met year by year in time of famine or in time of plenty".* The desks in the fifth and sixth grade room are the last of the old ones left in the Franklin School and they should be replaced. Their tops are so bad that pupils often bring card board from home to cover them so that they can have an even surface upon which to write. Three of the four rooms are badly in need of redecorating to improve the light and to remove the "dirt of depression". Window shades are needed throughout the entire building. Sooner or later the number of windows should be increased and re-arranged to admit proper light. The floors are becoming badly worn and dirty and should be soon replaced. The Pear Yard School should have its new floor—once before voted. This building is hard to heat largely because of its poor floor. I hope that we shall not have to postpone much longer the introduction of Manual and Domestic Arts. The pupils ought to have it. The retrenchment must not cut out health education, nor music, nor literature, nor vocational training. These are fundamentals in the improved curriculum.

Plans are under way for celebrating the Bicentennial of Washington's birth. You will be asked to cooperate.

Superintendent, teachers and nurse are all giving their best and cooperating with the School Board to make your schools as good as possible for the money spent. It is hard to see where we can do more. We ask continued support, financially and morally that your schools shall go forward and not be allowed to slip back in any particular.

Respectfully submitted,

HOWARD L. WINSLOW,

Superintendent of Schools.

STATISTICS

Schools were in session 169 days compared with 173 the year before. Tuition is being paid for 19 pupils at Berwick Academy and for 23 at Dover. 17 pupils were graduated from the eighth grade last June compared with 24 in 1930. The attendance was very good except that the number of tardy marks increased.

I wish to thank the Local Red Cross who had anticipated the need and have so generously given financial aid to the care of two children with poor vision.

The functions of the School Health Service are:

- (1) To determine the physical status of pupils.
- (2) To establish pupils attitudes favorable to medical examinations.
- (3) To advise school authorities regarding individual children and school policies.
- (4) To provide adequate nursing service.
